Laykold Advantage designed FOR NETBALL

For netball players to remain healthy whilst achieving peak performance, their bodies need three key factors from a surface. Non slip surface, force reduction and energy return.

In simple terms, your chosen netball court doesn't just need to be non slip. It also needs to absorb the force and return the energy to the athlete during competition or practice.

APT's cushioned systems offer up to 20% impact protection. A cushioned system is like an elastic surface, this elasticity absorbs the vertical and horizontal force delivered by the athlete. Not only do our systems absorb the force but they also return that energy to the athlete, thereby reducing fatigue and strain on the joints and muscles which improves recovery time and performance. The improved coatings provide high slip resistant properties which help prevent injuries from falls, slipping and jarring of joints.

GUIDELINES FOR THE CARE AND MAINTENANCE OF YOUR NETBALL COURT

To maintain the appearance and playing characteristics of your Laykold Acrylic Court System, minimal but regular maintenance of the surface is required. Generally sweeping debris off the surface with a bristle broom and hosing down with domestic quality water will keep your court in good condition.

DIRT CONTAMINATION: We recommend that any localised dirt contamination be swept or washed off the court surface as it occurs. In situations where windblown dirt/dust is an ongoing problem, then regular washing down of the court surface on a monthly basis is recommended.

MOULD GROWTH & TREE/PLANT CONTAMINATION: Careful use of diluted solutions of industrial grade detergents to remove resinous contamination, may be necessary. Before using a product ensure that it will not damage the surface by undertaking a small test area first. Always thoroughly wet down the Laykold Surface before applying detergent solutions, and wash off the solutions before they dry out on the surface.

Note: Do not use powdered calcium hypochlorite solution as this will leave a white deposit on the surface after drying.

FOOD/DRINK CONTAMINATION: Immediate washing of the surface is recommended. If staining has occurred, then the same cleaning methods suggested for mould/plant contamination is recommended. Solvent based products, solvent thinners or similar products are NOT to be used on the Laykold surface.

Scoring type products such as Ajax powder/liquid or similar are NOT recommended for use on Laykold surfaces.

FRUIT BAT DROPPINGS: These will cause degradation of the Laykold surface. They should be immediately removed by mechanically scraping them off or by water blasting.

In severe cases they will cause blistering and peeling, not only of the Laykold surface, but also of the asphalt base to a depth of 3-6mm. In these cases contact us for full maintenance guide.

BIRD/WILDLIFE CONTAMINATION: This can usually be removed with a weak detergent solution, a stiff bristle brush and plenty of tap water.

SHOE MARKS: Black scuff marks can generally removed with a detergent solution and a stiff bristle brush. Some rubber scuff marks can be quite difficult to remove when they are fresh, weathering will usually allow their removal some time later. Prevention is obviously the better method.

CHEWING GUM CONTAMINATION: It is very difficult to remove gum from the court surface. Mechanical scraping of the gum is all that we can recommend.

GREASE/OIL STAINS: Detergent solutions are the recommended method of removal. It may require several applications to remove grease and oil contamination. Thoroughly wash down the surface after the application of the detergent solution.
